Securities Issuer Privacy Notice

We understand how important your personal data is and are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

‘Personal Data’ means any information relating to or which identifies you. This can include items such as your name, address, phone number, identification numbers (such as an account number or your national insurance number), location data or online identifiers. Personal data can be held electronically or in certain paper records.

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) regulates the processing of personal data for individuals residing within the European Union. The GDPR seeks to protect your rights to your personal data by setting out, amongst other things, the conditions under which the processing of personal data is lawful, the rights of data subjects and the standards that organizations that handle personal data must adopt. This Fair Processing Notice is issued in compliance with GDPR and seeks to explain:

1. Who we are;
2. Products and services covered by this Privacy Notice;
3. How we collect your personal data;
4. Why we collect your personal data;
5. How long we hold the personal data;
6. The conditions under which we can share it with others;
7. Overseas processing;
8. How we keep your personal data secure;
9. Your personal data rights and how to exercise them;
10. Useful information; and
11. Any further questions.

1. Who we are

We are the issuer of securities you own. Our transfer agent is Equiniti Trust Company, which is part of the Equiniti Group of Companies, and is a transfer agent in the United States. Equiniti Trust Company's registered address is 275 Madison Ave, 34th Floor, New York, NY 10016, and their Operations Center is located at 1110 Centre Pointe Curve, Mendota Heights, MN 55120.

Equiniti Trust Company is a 'Data Processor' acting on behalf of a securities issuer. The securities issuer is a 'Data Controller.' The Data Controller is responsible for deciding how and why Equiniti Trust Company holds and uses personal data about you.

In this Privacy Notice, 'we', 'us' and 'our' will always mean the issuer, as Data Controller, or Equiniti Trust Company, as Data Processor.

PROFILING

Equiniti Trust Company, as part of required activities under United States law, undertakes financial crime checks of all shareholders on their database.

2. Products and services covered by this Privacy Notice

This notice applies to all of the following Equiniti Trust Company products and services used by us:

1. Shareholder registry;
2. Direct Stock Purchase Plan transactions;
3. Dividend Reinvestment Plan transactions;
4. Dividend payments;
5. Employee Stock Option Plan transactions;
6. Employee Stock Purchase Plan transactions

3. How Equiniti Trust Company collects your personal data

As part of the recordkeeping maintained on behalf of issuers, Equiniti Trust Company obtains and stores personal identifying information, including names, addresses, and tax identification numbers of shareholders. Additionally, Equiniti Trust Company may also obtain and store bank account information to enable it to process transactions in accordance with shareholder instructions.

Equiniti Trust Company processes personal data as part of standard data collection and as part of correspondence or complaint information.

We and Equiniti Trust Company may collect and process the following personal data about you:

Information you provide to us

- By filling in forms on our website(s);
- By corresponding with us by post, phone, e-mail, live-chat or otherwise;

- Application/registration forms/identification documentation;
- When you report any problem or complaints with our website, products and services.

Information we collect about you when you use our services

- Information about how you logged on and off our website(s), including your IP address, information about your visit, your browsing history, and how you use our website. This will include the capture of your location information – please see our Cookie Policy for further information on this;
- Information on what you view, click on and access in and through our marketing emails and text messages. This may include the geographic location of the device you have used – please see our Cookie Policy for further information on this;
- Images and voice recordings of your communications with us for quality control, training, security and regulatory purposes, but may also capture your location, i.e. use of home landline number
- Information about the transactions and investments you make while using our products and services, including financial data
- If you contact us via social media, we may collect details from your social media account.

Information we receive from third parties

- As part of our identity and financial crime checking procedures with credit reference agencies, fraud detection agencies and registration or stockbroking industry exchanges;
- From third parties when you have instructed or agreed for them to pass information to us, such as
 - Your employer if you are using our services following an employee purchase plan;
 - Your broker, agent, Trustee or Investment Company
 - From online advertising networks (for example Google) through whom we place advertisements. The information we obtain varies from network to network. It often summarizes the actions of lots of people and so does not enable us to identify you individually. It relates to what you view, click on, and access through websites in their network, including the subject matter of the website you started at and where you subsequently go. It might also include their analysis of your behavior across the wider internet and a profile of you. If you are unhappy about this happening you should look out for ‘settings’ and ‘Do Not Track’ options in online advertisements and in the privacy and cookies functionality on your devices and consider changing your settings to block third party cookies in particular. We do not control the information on you that such networks obtain, or the technology they use to do so.

Keeping your personal data up to date

The personal data we hold may include your name, mailing and home address, email address and phone number, financial information and for some accounts and transactions, additional information about you such as your tax identification number and nationality to enable us to provide you with our products and services.

It is important to us that the personal data we hold about you remains accurate and up to date at all times, but we need your help in doing this. Please ensure that you review the information held about you regularly and let us know as soon as anything needs updating or correcting.

Other people’s personal data

The information you give us in your application form or other related documents, or that we collect through your use of our services, may contain your or another person’s personal data. If you provide us with information about another person, you confirm that they have appointed you to act for them, they consent to you providing their personal data to us and any processing of their personal data and that you have informed them of our identity and the purpose for which their personal data will be processed – as set out in this Privacy Notice.

4. Why we collect your personal data

In the table below we demonstrate why and how we use your personal data as well as providing the legal reasons which we rely upon.

Under Data Protection legislation we must always have a legal reason for processing your personal data. One of the legal reasons is when we use your personal data for our legitimate interests, this is usually when we have a business reason, however, we must always ensure that we take your interests into consideration too, and ensure that the use is fairly balanced. We tell you below when we rely on legitimate interests and what our legitimate interests are.

If you choose not to give personal information

We need to collect personal information required by law or under the terms of a contract we have with you. If you choose not to give us the personal data we need it can mean that we have to cancel or decline a product or service that you request or have with us. So that you know what information is optional, we make it clear at the time we collect your personal data.

5. How long we hold your personal data for

Personal data will not be retained for longer than necessary for us to achieve the purpose for which we obtained your personal data. We will then either securely delete it or anonymize it so that it cannot be linked back to you. We review our retention periods for personal data on a regular basis.

All records are maintained in accordance with Rule 17Ad-7, set by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

We can keep your data for longer than these requirements if we cannot delete it for legal, regulatory or technical reasons. We can also keep it for research or statistical purposes. If we do, we will make sure that your privacy is protected and only use it for those purposes.

For full details of the retention policies of our transfer agent, please contact the Risk and Compliance Officer of Equiniti Trust Company, at EQUS.compliance@equiniti.com.

6. The conditions under which we may share your personal data with others

The personal data we hold about you is confidential, and we will only share your personal data to enable us to deliver our product(s) or service(s), examples are as follows:

- At your request, or with your consent or the consent of any party linked to your product or service;
- Other Equiniti Group entities who help us deliver our products and services, such as Equiniti India Private Limited
- Non-Equiniti entities, in connection with running accounts and services for you, including:
 - Banks and other payment service providers to make and receive payments
 - Printers in order to supply you with documentation and statements
 - Insurance companies - where we need to provide details of your account when we or Equiniti Trust Company make a claim.
 - Stockbrokers and market makers who execute transactions we make on your behalf
 - Service suppliers to facilitate email, IT and administration services
 - Our professional advisors, for example, our lawyers and technology consultants, when they need it to provide advice to us
 - Your employer or agent(s), in accordance with any specific instructions you provide to us or where it is required for the employer to report the information for tax purposes.
 - Credit reference agencies and our fraud detection agencies as part of our identification procedures, for example, Experian and TraceSmart
 - Your Official Receiver or appointed insolvency practitioner if we receive notice of your insolvency, bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings / arrangement

We will only transfer your personal information to trusted third parties who provide sufficient security guarantees and who demonstrate a commitment to compliance with applicable law and this policy.

Where third parties are processing personal information on our behalf, they will be required to agree, by contractual means, to process the personal information in accordance with the applicable law. This contract will stipulate, amongst other things, that the third party and its representatives shall act only on our instructions, or as permitted by law.

We are also required to share your personal data with external third parties as follows (but not limited to):

- Regulators and supervisory authorities e.g. the United States Internal Revenue Service, domestic or foreign tax authority, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, state and federal courts (the courts), tax advisors, the Depository Trust and Clearing Corporation or the operator of any market on which you may hold investments, as part of our legal obligations in providing the products / services. Where the law requires or permits disclosure, or there is a duty to the public to reveal it

- When we need to defend or exercise our legal rights or those of a third party
- Debt collecting, debt chasing or another agent for enforcing payment of monies owed to us
- Efforts to trace you if we lose contact with you, e.g. to reunite you with your assets
- State governmental agencies, when contact with you is lost
- Police and other law enforcement agencies for the prevention and detection of crime and where a valid permission is applicable
- As a result of a court order or other regulatory instruction
- Our insurers and insurance brokers where required for underwriting our risks and as part of ongoing risk assessments
- We may transfer your personal data to a third party as part of a sale of some or all of our business and assets to any third party or as part of any business restructuring or reorganization. At all times, we take steps to ensure your privacy rights continue to be protected as per this Privacy Notice.
- For individuals subject to personal account dealing regulations – when we are advised by you or your employer that personal account dealing reporting requirements are in place, we will notify your employer of relevant trades and transactions on your account.

7. Overseas Processing

Personal data will be shared with members of the Equiniti Group outside of the United States, including Equiniti Limited, which is based in the United Kingdom, and Equiniti India Private Limited, which is based in India, for the purposes described in this Privacy Notice.

Please note that information protection laws do vary from country to country. In particular, the law of the country in which you are a resident or domiciled may offer a higher standard of protection than the laws in the United States and/or those other countries in which we store and use the personal data we collect. Our transfer of personal data to other countries could result in that personal data being available to governments and other authorities in those countries under their laws.

By using our Service, you agree to this international transfer, storing and processing.

8. How we keep your personal data secure

We understand how important your personal data is to you and we take appropriate steps to ensure that it remains secure. We safeguard your personal data across all our computer systems, networks, websites, and offices as much as possible through appropriate procedures and technical security measures (including strict encryption, anonymization and archiving techniques). The Information Security policies at Equiniti Trust Company are aligned to ISO27001, which is an internationally recognized security standard.

We also use secure ways of communicating with you such as when collecting your personal data or providing your account information:

- online through the use of “https” and other security and encryption protocols. This is indicated by a lock icon on the bottom of the web browser, or the address will include the letters https in the top left-hand corner;
- by telephone we will always ask you security questions to confirm your identity before we discuss matters relating to your account(s).

Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password or unique identifier (PIN) which enables you to access certain parts of our websites, you are responsible for keeping this password / PIN confidential, along with any username. We will never ask for your full password or PIN, and you must not divulge your full password to us or anyone else. We recommend that any password or PIN you set is not easily guessable, and changed frequently.

Because we cannot guarantee the confidentiality of personal data sent on the internet, you should never send your login details via email.

Security concerns

If you ever receive a communication from us by post, email or by phone that you are concerned may not be genuine, please contact us using the contact details below. You must immediately inform us if you become aware, or suspect, that someone else has knowledge of your account details. If you have any concerns about the security of your own personal computers and mobile devices, we suggest you read the advice of Get Safe Online, which can be accessed at www.getsafeonline.org.

9. Your personal data rights and how to exercise them

You have rights in respect of the personal data that we hold about you. They include the right to request a copy of the information that we hold about you, to know about any automated decisions that are made about you and to change your marketing preferences at any time. Details about all of your rights are provided below.

Some of these rights are conditional and depend upon why we are processing your personal data. This means that we are not always able to respond to your request in the way that you want. For example:

- If you ask us to erase your personal data and we are processing the information because we are required to do so because of a legal requirement, we will not be able to delete your personal data;
- However, if you ask us to erase your personal data and we are processing the information because you provided us with consent (for example as part of a survey response), we will be able to consider and respond to your request.

Your rights in respect of personal data we hold about you	Explanatory detail
The right to request us to erase your personal data in certain circumstances.	The circumstances when erasure can apply include when we no longer need it to meet a

	lawful basis for processing unless that basis is consent and you withdraw your consent or you object to the processing or the processing is unlawful. However, certain exclusions apply - where the processing is necessary for compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation or requirement or to establish, exercise or defend legal claims.
The right to request us to restrict processing it	This request can be used to stop us processing your personal data if you disagree over the accuracy of the personal data, the reason for processing or if you wish us to retain your personal data for longer than our retention period, e.g. to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim
The right to request a copy of your personal data for data portability purposes	If you have provided personal data to us under contract or because you consented to the processing and use of the data by automated means, then you have the right to instruct us to transmit that personal data to you or another data controller in a machine-readable format.
The right to object to us processing your personal data	You have a right to object to us processing your data where we are processing it for the purpose of legitimate interests. You can also object to direct marketing communications from us about products, offers, competitions, or services and any profiling that we can perform in relation to direct marketing. You can update your marketing preferences at any time through the use of the opt-out functionality. You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of processing before the withdrawal. If you would like to receive the marketing described above, please ensure you have indicated your preferences accordingly.
Rights related to decisions based solely on automated processing	Where this processing produces legal effects or significantly affects you, you can object to this processing unless the processing is necessary as part of our contract, or is required by legislation.
Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority	If you wish to raise a complaint on how we have handled your personal data, please contact our Data Protection team by selecting Contact Us online or send written inquiries at 275 Madison Ave, 34th Floor, New York, NY 10016 who will investigate the matter and report back to you. If you remain unsatisfied with our response or

	believe we are not processing your personal data in accordance with the law, you are able to contact the data protection authority in your country or state of residence.
